

Khalsa Society

---

Khalsa Society is an organic and global network of independent, yet interconnected points of light, individually and collectively dedicated to modeling and promoting the Khalsa ideal, as created by Guru Gobind Singh.

Group Rules

1. Objective:

The purpose of this group is to promote the spiritual path of the Khalsa and spread activities aligned with the teachings of Guru Gobind Singh Ji.

2. Appropriate Content:

For that reason, group members should avoid engaging in areas such as philosophical debate or partisan political opinion.

3. Tone:

Contributions should be constructive, respectful, and uplifting.

4. Personal Promotion:

The announcement of activities and events related to the specific purpose of the group, which is to promote the Khalsa spiritual path, is of course welcome and particularly encouraged. For that reason, group members should take care in not promoting any other activities or events, even if they would be recognized as being generally helpful to personal and spiritual growth.

5. Learning Resources:

Books, articles, videos, or any other resource that specifically further understanding of the Khalsa spiritual path, are welcome and encouraged.

6. Confidentiality:

Members' contacts should not be used for personal purposes. Being a member of this group invokes an agreement not to divulge the content of any post without the explicit consent of the person who had made the post.

7. Language:

Members of the group are welcome to post in the language of their choosing, however, in order to create common understanding among group members, all non-English posts should also include an English translation.

8. Moderator:

The Moderator of this group will have sole discretion to make whatever decisions are necessary for the benefit of the group's objectives, including the addition and removal of group members. Current group members are encouraged to inform the Moderator of persons who share the specific ideals and objectives of this group and wish to be made part of it.
